

Neurodiversity in Career and Technical Education

Justin Grimm – Special Education Facilitator, Fayette County Career and Technical Institute and 2019 PACTESP Outstanding Career and Technical Special Needs Teacher of the Year

Neurodiversity is a paradigm in which teaching and learning are designed around the diverse brains of our students. Following this presentation, the audience will be familiar with the basic principles of neurodiversity and strategies for its application with students with disabilities in career and technical education programs.

jgrimm@fayettecti.org