Debbie Silver – Educational Motivator

Are you working harder and enjoying it less? How do teachers and leaders remain optimistic while facing today's daunting challenges in education? How do we deliver quality education during and beyond the pandemic? Back by popular demand, Debbie will give us a realistic, positive approach to “taking back our profession.” Using her well-known candor and sense of humor, she offers an entertaining and thought-provoking look at how teachers can navigate these challenging times with a sense of self and a sense of hope. Be prepared to learn, to laugh, and to leave with a renewed sense of purpose.
